

Kami

Space is your own. Whether to relax in the living area and look out over your terrace or wintergarden to the views beyond or retreat to your bedroom to read, all spaces in this attentively detailed apartment respect the principles of Nishi's design: Cross flow ventilation afforded through front and rear outlooks ensures coolness in summer and through floor heat retention, warmth in winter. Through the general energy conservation qualities of building materials and energy saving appliances and fittings—you can really enjoy living on your own or entertaining friends.

This layout is subject to contract and may be subject to amendment (including changed dimensions) to suit authority requirements, final working drawings and grid layouts. Please refer to contract for explanation of area calculation and layout changes. Furniture is shown for illustrative purposes only.